

At an Hour That Ye Think Not

Lelia Naylor Morris, 1910, alt.

Lelia Naylor Morris

♩ = 85

1. "At an hour that ye think not" The Mas - ter will come, An ac-
 2. "At an hour that ye think not" The Judge will des - cend, And the
 3. "At an hour that ye think not" The Bride - groom will call For the
 4. "At an hour that ye think not" What joy it will be, When the

- count from His own He'll de - mand, For the time and the tal - ents Com-trump of the arch - an - gel sound; He has gi - ven us warn - ing, And Church, His be - lov - ed, His bride; The re - deemed who in white Wed - ding King comes to bring back His own. If He looks with ap - prov - al up-

Refrain
 - mit - ted to you, He that day will re - quire at your hand.
 bids us to watch, And each one at his post to be found. The Mas - ter is com - ing, be-gar - ments are dressed, For the faith - ful the true and the tried. "Well done!"
 - on you and me, And we hear His glad plaud - it, "Well done!"

- ware ye! The Mas - ter is com - ing, pre - pare ye! Keep your lamps trimmed and burn - ing, To p greet His re - turn - ing, "At an hour that ye think not!" He's com - ing. f