

Beautiful Robe and Crown

Eden Reeder Latta, 1894

Daniel Webster Crist

♩=115

1. Plea - sures that earth can give Ne - ver are un - al - loyed, Like to the
2. Fa - shion's a - dorn - ments are Ev - er with mon - ey bought, Heav - en - ly
3. Land of the white - robed throng And of the harp and palm, Af - ter the hap - pi - ness That is in Heav'n en - joyed! What are earth's gar - ments gay, Oft - en so gar - ments bright, On - ly by faith are sought! What are the mines of earth? What is the storms of life Thine is a bless - ed calm! There may our ev - ery name Sure - ly be proud - ly shown? No - thing com - pared to you, Beau - ti - ful robe and crown!

Refrain
world's re - nown? No - thing com - pared to you, Beau - ti - ful robe and crown! Beau - ti - ful writ - ten down! Striv - ing are we for you, Beau - ti - ful robe and crown!

robe! Beau - ti - ful crown! Beau - ti - ful robe! Beau - ti - ful Beau - ti - ful robe! Beau - ti - ful crown! Beau - ti - ful robe!

crowns! What are the mines of earth? What is the world's re-nown? No-thing com-Beau-ti-ful crown!

The first system of music consists of two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line in treble clef, and the lower staff is a piano accompaniment in bass clef. Both are in the key of D major (two sharps). The vocal line begins with a whole note chord (D major) that is held over for two measures. The piano accompaniment starts with a quarter rest in the first measure, followed by a series of chords and eighth notes. The lyrics are written below the vocal staff, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across measures.

- pared to you, Beau-ti-ful robe and crown!

The second system of music also consists of two staves. The vocal line continues from the first system, starting with a quarter note chord (D major) and ending with a half note chord (D major) that has a fermata. The piano accompaniment continues with similar chordal patterns and eighth notes, also ending with a half note chord (D major) with a fermata. The lyrics continue below the vocal staff, with a hyphen at the start of the first line.