

The Coming King

F. L. DuPont, 1923

John Wesley Dennis

♩=91

1. We are wait - ing, we are list - ening For the trum - pet's migh - ty blast That shall
2. Sing it proud - ly, shout it loud - ly, Till the whole cre - a - tion rings With tri -
3. We are work - ing, we are pray - ing, For His pro - mise will be kept, That each 4. We are wait - ing, we are hop - ing For that glad aus - pi - cious day When His wake God's sleep - ing child - ren, Bid their slum - bers cease at last; In the

- umph - ant strains of mus - ic, Hail the com - ing King of kings! No more lov - ing, faith - ful ser - vice He will gra - cious - ly ac - cept; And it white robed glor - ious ar - my Shall des - cend in bright ar - ray; With ex - rap - ture and the splen - dor, All His saints shall free - ly share; He will con - flict 'mong the na - tions, Wars for - ev - er - more will cease; Wave thy mat - ters not how mea - ger Are the tal - ents we em - ploy, They will

- ult - ant shouts of tri - umph We shall make the hea - vens ring, As in

Refrain
give us roy - al wel - come When we meet Him in the air. ban - ners, wave them glad - ly, Hail the com - ing Prince of Peace! We are meet with His ap - prov - al, And His "en - ter in - to joy!" We are won - drous power and glo - ry, We at - tend the com - ing King.

watch - ing, we are work - ing, For the watch - ing, we are work - ing, We are watch - ing, we are work - ing, com - ing of the King; No more con-flict, no more sor-row, Wars for-

 For the coming, for the com - ing of the King;

- ev-er-more will cease, When shall come the Prince of Peace.
 When shall come