

Crossing the River

I. Cooley, 1876 (attributed), alt.

W. R. Evans

♩=83

1. One by one we are cross - ing the ri - ver; Naught do we fear with our
2. One by one may our sins be for - giv - en; Washed by the tears of re -
3. One by one may we ga - ther to - ge - ther; When we have all reached that

Fa - ther to guide; Sor - row and care we are leav - ing be - hind us,
- pent - ance a - way; Ne - ver a cloud spread a sha - dow in Hea - ven—beau - ti - ful shore; Ming - ling our voic - es in praise of the Fa - ther,

Refrain

Safe - ty we'll find on the oth - er side.
En - ter - ing there we'll find end - less day. O - ver the ri - ver, o - ver the ri - ver,
Liv - ing with Je - sus for - ev - er - more.

Joy - ful - ly ga - ther - ing one by one; Peace may be found in that glo - ri - ous coun - try,

O - ver the ri - ver, when life is done.