

The Glad Home Coming

Albert Benjamin Simpson, 1896

Addison Bartholomew Bowser

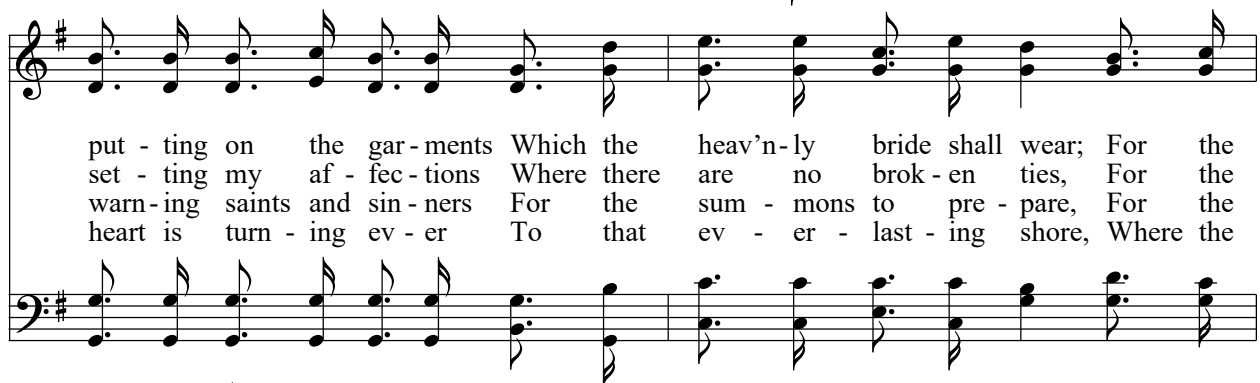

♩=93

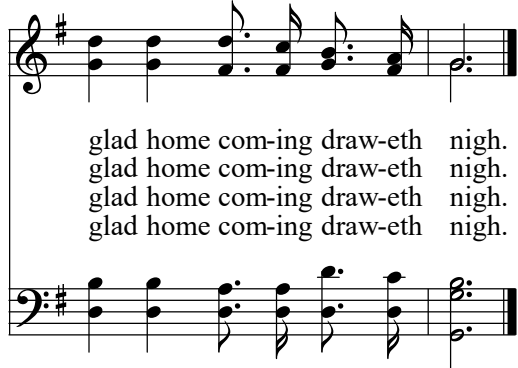

1. I am long-ing for the ga - th'ring Of the ran - somed o - ver there; I am
2. I am let - ting go the plea-sures And the trea - sures world-ings prize; I am
3. I am hast-en - ing the com-ing Of the Bride-groom in the air, I am 4. Oh! the joy of meet-ing Je - sus And the loved ones gone be - fore; Oh! the wait - ing for the com-ing Of the Bride - groom in the air; I am lay - ing up my trea - sures And am - bi - tions in the skies; I am send - ing forth the Gos - pel Of the King - dom ev - ery - where; I am bliss when death and sor - row, Sin and sick - ness come no more. All my put - ting on the gar - ments Which the heav'n - ly bride shall wear; For the set - ting my af - fec - tions Where there are no brok - en ties, For the warn - ing saints and sin - ners For the sum - mons to pre - pare, For the heart is turn - ing ev - er To that ev - er - last - ing shore, Where the glad home com-ing draw-eth nigh.

glad home com-ing draw-eth nigh.
glad home com-ing draw-eth nigh.
glad home com-ing draw-eth nigh.