

A Land Beyond the Valley

William Clark Martin, 1915, alt.

Arel Arden Bertrand

$\text{♩} = 90$

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It features a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a 4/4 time signature. The tempo is marked as quarter note = 90. The score is divided into several systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment line. The lyrics are written below the vocal line. The first system contains three verses of the first line of the hymn. The second system contains the second line of the hymn. The third system contains the third line of the hymn. The fourth system contains the fourth line of the hymn. The fifth system contains the fifth line of the hymn, which is the refrain. The sixth system contains the sixth line of the hymn. The seventh system contains the seventh line of the hymn. The eighth system contains the eighth line of the hymn. The ninth system contains the ninth line of the hymn. The tenth system contains the tenth line of the hymn. The score ends with a double bar line.

1. There's a land be-yond the val-ley That is fair - er than the day, Where are
2. We shall sing be-yond the val-ley, And our weep - ing will be o'er; We shall
3. Till we pass be-yond the val-ley We will toil and pray and sing; And the flow - ers ev - er bloom - ing, Joys that ne - ver pass a - way; Where the raise our hal - le - lu - jahs, To the Sav - ior we a - dore; Robed in dear - est of our trea - sures To our Sav - ior we will bring; We will tree of life is bear - ing Leaves that heal our pain and care, And our white and crowned with glo - ry We shall min - gle with the blest, And for - tell a - broad the tid - ings Of the land be - yond the vale Where the

Refrain

Sav - ior is pre - par - ing For us man - sions o - ver there.
- get the wea - ry jour - ney When we en - ter in - to rest. O - ver there be - yond the joys a - bide for - ev - er And the bless - ings ne - ver fail.

val - ley, Just be - yond the deep, dark val - ley; There's a land be - yond the val - ley That is fair - er than the day.