1. We're an ar - my all en - rolled of ma - ny mill - ions strong;
 2. Hosts of dark - ness trem - ble as our ban - ners are un - furled;
 3. Come a - long, ye co - horts strong, we're one in this cam - paign—
 4. We are har - nessed for the war, the Spir - it's sword we wield;
 5. Soon the war will have its end, and then this con - quering host,
 6. See the grand re - view a - bove, a - long that gold - en street,

All look on with won - der as we stea - dy swing a - long;
 See "the Lion of Ju - dah," who is bound to take the world;
 One in Him whose sign we bear, who bore our guilt and shame;
 See, a "dy - ing Lamb," em - bossed up - on faith's am - ple shield;
 An - swer - ing the last roll call up - on that peace - ful coast,
 Host be - low, and host a - bove, tri - umph - ant shout - ing meet;

Cheer each o - ther as we go with this tri - umph - ant song,
 Kings a - gainst His right to reign shall from their seats be hurled,
 Palms of vic - tory bought for all, who bear that won - drous name,
 Breast - plate of a per - fect love which scorns to sin to yield,
 Each re - ceives a vic - tor's crown of which we sang the boast,
 Com - rades once so missed be - low, each o - ther joy - ous greet,

Refrain

As we are march-ing to Ca - naan.
 As we are march-ing to Ca - naan.
 As we are march-ing to Ca - naan. March on! march on! we sing the ju - bi - lee! March
 As we are march-ing to Ca - naan.
 As we were march-ing to Ca - naan.
 As when once march-ing to Ca - naan.

on! march on! the grace that makes us free; Fol-low-ing our cap-tain, Christ, whose guid-ing eye we see, As we are march-ing to Ca - naan.
