

Which Side Are You On?

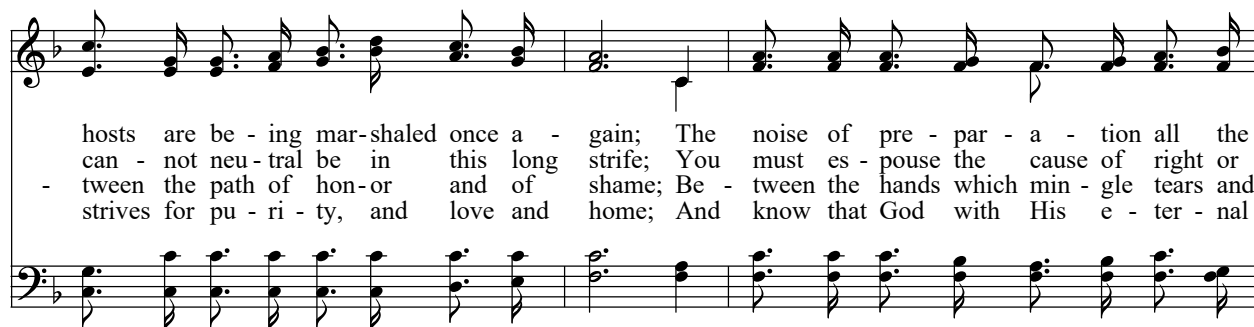

Thompson H. Jones, 1906

Thompson H. Jones

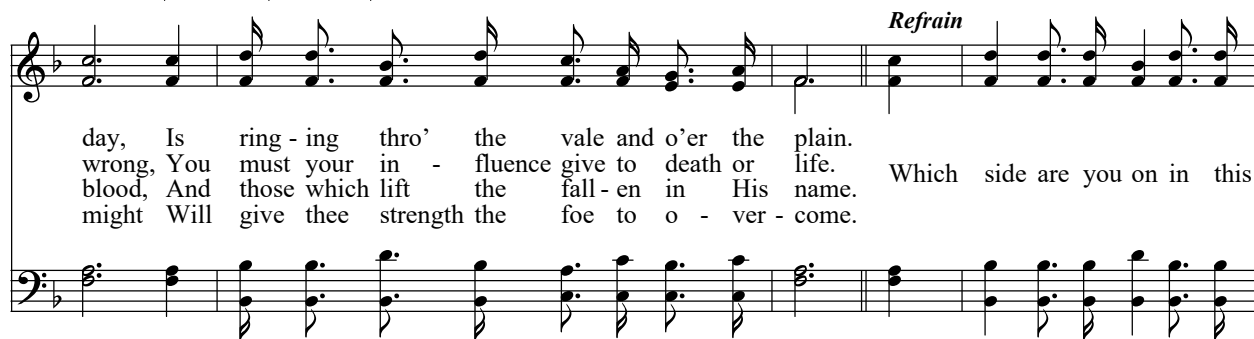

♩=97

1. I see the ar - mies gath - 'ring for the fray, Their
2. You can - not be a care - less look - er on, You
3. Choose ye be - tween the e - vil and the good, Be-
4. Gird on thine ar - mor for the cause of right, Which hosts are be - ing mar-shaled once a - gain; The noise of pre - par - a - tion all the can - not neu - tral be in this long strife; You must es - pouse the cause of right or

- tween the path of hon - or and of shame; Be - tween the hands which min - gle tears and strives for pu - ri - ty, and love and home; And know that God with His e - ter - nal

Refrain
day, Is ring - ing thro' the vale and o'er the plain.
wrong, You must your in - fluence give to death or life. Which side are you on in this blood, And those which lift the fall - en in His name.
might Will give thee strength the foe to o - ver - come.

fight, sol-dier? Which side now shall claim your gal-lant deeds? Do you march with the King 'neath the ban-ner of the right Or fol-low where the prince of dark-ness leads?