

Yes, 'Tis the Same Old Story

E. S. Wilkenson, 1887, alt.

Gomer Thomas

$\text{♩} = 98$

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It features a treble and bass staff with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a time signature of 6/8. The tempo is marked as quarter note = 98. The lyrics are arranged in two columns, with the first column corresponding to the first vocal part and the second column to the second. The score includes a main body of music and a refrain section. The main body consists of three systems of music, each with two staves. The refrain section is marked 'Refrain' and also consists of two systems of music. The final system of the refrain ends with a double bar line. The lyrics are: 1. Yes, 'tis the same old sto - ry, Told o'er and ov - er a - gain, Of 2. We wel - come then this happy day, We hail the heav - en - ly King, We how the Lord of glo - ry Came down to vis - it men: To purge a - way trans - raise with joy our tuneful lay And make the wel - kin ring; With glad - some voice and - gress - ions, To save them from their sin, To grant them full re - mis - sion, And cheerful heart, We great each oth - er here, And glad are we to do our part, And make them pure with - in. Oh! yes, the same old sto - ry, Of Christ, the Lord of give each oth - er cheer. glo - ry, Of how He loves the low - ly, And saves us from our sin.

1. Yes, 'tis the same old sto - ry, Told o'er and ov - er a - gain, Of
2. We wel - come then this happy day, We hail the heav - en - ly King, We how the Lord of glo - ry Came down to vis - it men: To purge a - way trans - raise with joy our tuneful lay And make the wel - kin ring; With glad - some voice and
- gress - ions, To save them from their sin, To grant them full re - mis - sion, And cheerful heart, We great each oth - er here, And glad are we to do our part, And Refrain
make them pure with - in. Oh! yes, the same old sto - ry, Of Christ, the Lord of give each oth - er cheer.
glo - ry, Of how He loves the low - ly, And saves us from our sin.